RECEIVED
JUN 13 2003
William Delahunt, M.C.

Dear Congressman Delahunt:

This is in regard to the news reports that the Bush Administration either falsified or selectively used "intelligence" reports to justify to the American people the war against Iraq.

Even though Saddam Hussein may have been a tyrant and his removal was beneficial, lying to the American people by the Administration is criminal and such an act should be punished.

When confronted by the allegations of these misdeeds, Administration spokesmen said that the American people "don't care." Well, this is one American who does care.

Therefore, I am asking you please to do every thing that you can to have George Bush impeached and, if possible, to have him and his advisers, who were also responsible for these acts, prosecuted.

Thanking you for your kind attention to this matter and wishing you continued success, I am

Sincerely and respectfully yours,
